

Messianic Promises

Join Us For An Advent Reflection

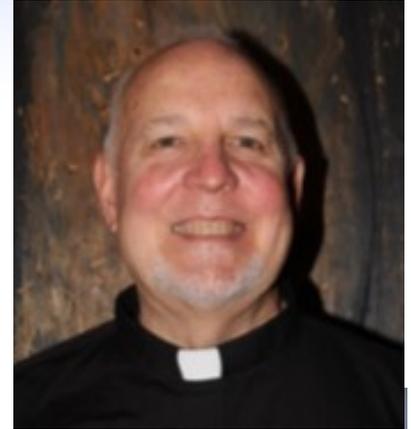

From the dawn of humanity, mankind awaited the Savior. What was perceived in shadow reflected in mythologies and evident in the recent excavation of the Goblecki Tempe, the world's oldest known place of worship dated 10,000 BC, became revelation in the Scriptures revered by the ancient Hebrews. The Old Testament contains over 700 prophecies delineating the coming of Jesus the Messiah, beginning with God's promise to Adam and Eve as they were driven from the Garden of Eden. Come share in a discussion with Father Ed Wills, former Protestant minister, as he discusses key Messianic promises of the Hebrew Scriptures and what they mean to us today.

“Jesus can't be understood without placing him within the history of Israel as the Messiah that all of Israel had always waited for. He is the new Adam, Moses, Abraham, David, etc. The New Eden is now established in the person of Jesus.” ~ Fr. Robert Barron

Topics

- ⇒ Christ, the New Adam
- ⇒ Mary, the New Eve
- ⇒ Christ, the New Moses
- ⇒ Christ, the New David
- ⇒ Christ in the Psalms
- ⇒ Christ, the Suffering Servant

Contact the church office for more information.

Father Ed Wills is a former protestant minister who entered the Catholic Church in 2000. He studied Scripture and Theology at Oral Roberts University and the University of Dallas. He lived with the Discalced Carmelite Fathers for two years where he taught Greek and Old Testament. Ed's varied life experiences include Naval Officer, Corporate Executive, Faith-based Consultant, and Entrepreneur. His books include, Learning to Listen to God and Where do I go from Here?, and Lord, Heal my Wounded Soul. Fr. Ed was ordained through the Ordinariate of the Chair of St. Peter and is currently in residence in the Pueblo Diocese.